

An Evening of Texas Hospitality:

Saddle Up in the Wild West

6:45 PM

Awards Ceremony

Gabby Darville-Sanders, PhD
ACS National HPV Vaccination
Roundtable and ACS National Roundtable on Cervical Cancer

Shannon Griffin-Blake, PhD
American Cancer Society

Ryan Lester, MPH
Consultant

Sarah Shafir, MPH
American Cancer Society

Special Acknowledgement

2026
Volunteer
Leadership
Summit

Noel Brewer, PhD

ACS Volunteer
Leadership Award

The Legacy Award honors an individual whose sustained leadership, vision, and dedication have left a lasting and transformative impact on the American Cancer Society Roundtables. This award recognizes those whose contributions have shaped the direction, strength, and long-term success of Roundtable efforts, advancing cancer prevention, early detection, and health equity.

Legacy Award

Tamika Felder

The Leadership Award recognizes an individual who has demonstrated outstanding leadership, vision, and commitment in advancing the mission of the American Cancer Society Roundtables. This award honors leaders who inspire collaboration, drive meaningful progress, and elevate the impact of Roundtable efforts at the local, state, or national level.

Leadership Award

Francisco García, MD

Leadership Award

Jane Grey, MPH, PMP

The Above and Beyond Award recognizes an organization or individual who has demonstrated exceptional commitment, initiative, innovation and impact to HPV cancer prevention. This award honors individuals who consistently exceed expectations, go beyond their defined role, and meaningfully advance the mission and goals of the American Cancer Society Roundtables.

Jane Montealegre, PhD

Above & Beyond Award

Above & Beyond Award

Alyssa Schatz, MD

The HPV Champion Award honors champions who promote evidence-based strategies to increase HPV vaccination, improve education and awareness, and reduce barriers to prevention and care. Recipients are committed leaders who mobilize partners across healthcare, public health, education, policy, and community sectors to drive collaborative action and measurable progress.

Indiana Immunization Coalition

HPV Champion Award

The Cervical Cancer Champion Award honors a Roundtable leader whose advocacy, collaboration, and impact have advanced cervical cancer prevention. Recipients are steadfast advocates who mobilize partners, drive collaborative action, and translate commitment into measurable progress for communities most affected by cervical cancer.

Rebecca Perkins, MD

Cervical Cancer Champion Award

The Screening Champion Award recognizes an individual or organization that has demonstrated outstanding leadership, dedication, and impact in advancing cancer screening. This award honors champions who promote evidence-based screening, improve access to timely and high-quality cancer screening services, reduce barriers, and address disparities that disproportionately affect underserved and marginalized populations.

Kathy MacLaughlin, MD

Screening Champion Award

The Age 9 Champion Award recognizes an individual or organization that has demonstrated exceptional leadership and commitment to promoting the initiation of HPV vaccination at age 9 as a critical strategy for cancer prevention. This award honors champions who advance evidence-based practices that normalize early vaccination, improve completion rates, and reduce missed opportunities – particularly in communities disproportionately affected by HPV-related cancers. Recipients lead efforts to educate families, engage healthcare providers, influence systems and policies, and strengthen partnerships that support timely HPV vaccination.

Path to a Bright Future

HPV vaccination is cancer prevention

St Jude HPV Cancer Prevention Program

Age 9 Champion Award – Organization

The Age 9 Champion Award recognizes an individual or organization that has demonstrated exceptional leadership and commitment to promoting the initiation of HPV vaccination at age 9 as a critical strategy for cancer prevention. This award honors champions who advance evidence-based practices that normalize early vaccination, improve completion rates, and reduce missed opportunities – particularly in communities disproportionately affected by HPV-related cancers. Recipients lead efforts to educate families, engage healthcare providers, influence systems and policies, and strengthen partnerships that support timely HPV vaccination.

Nadja Vielot, MD

Age 9 Champion Award – Individual

The ACS Champion Award honors an exceptional individual who has demonstrated extraordinary leadership, commitment, and impact in advancing the mission of the American Cancer Society Roundtables – National HPV Vaccination and National Roundtable on Cervical Cancer. This award recognizes ACS staff champions who go beyond expectations to drive progress in cancer prevention, early detection, access to care, advocacy, and survivorship through collaborations and partnerships with the Roundtable Teams.

ACS Champion Award

Hannah Nein

Thank You